

Joel Garcia

Partner, Senior Director

Joel Garcia joined enVista in June 2003 as Partner and Senior Director, specializing in Technology and Supply Chain Strategy and Operations. Garcia is highly experienced in warehouse management, labor management and transportation systems. He brings 15 years of experience applying technology and best practices to supply chain operations for clients such as Hawaii Transfer, Bradshaw International, Applica Consumer Products and QEP.

Prior to enVista Garcia was a mechanical engineer, IT manager and project manager at Southern California Edison.

Garcia has spoken at industry user conferences and has been interviewed for an article in Inbound Logistics. He holds a Bachelor's Degree in Mechanical Engineering from CalPoly Pomona and is a member of both CSCMP and the Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Outside of work, Garcia's interests include boating and skiing with the family. Garcia also enjoys researching, evaluating, and writing about home automation systems and gadgets.
