

Ken Mullen

Senior Vice President, Supply Chain Solutions Practice

Ken Mullen is a Senior Vice President of enVista's Supply Chain Solutions Practice and principal owner of enVista. For more than 20 years, Ken has helped hundreds of companies across a variety of industries understand and address complex supply chain challenges, from source to consumption. Mullen's project management success and his expertise designing and deploying supply chain execution and planning systems have made him a trusted and respected resource in supply chain.

Mullen has delivered value to companies including:

E-Z-GO and Greenlee, Divisions of Textron, The Men's Wearhouse, Disney, PetSmart, Costco, First Quality, MBM Food Service, Diamond Comics, Horizon Hobby, Cummins, Novamex, Papyrus, Legrand North America, Cooper Lighting and Ritz Interactive.

Prior to joining enVista, Mullen was Sr. Director of Client Development for CIBER, Inc.'s Supply Chain Practice, Manager of Business Development for I2 Technologies Southeastern Region, and Director of Business Development and Shareholder for The Summit Group, Inc.

Mullen has been interviewed by Modern Materials Handling and other industry publications. His blog, "Mullen Over the Supply Chain" is also well followed. Mullen has also presented nationally at partner and industry tradeshows such as:

WERC National and Regional Conference Shows
CSCMP National and Regional Conference Shows
North American Supply Chain Show
PROMAT
Retail Industry and Logistics Association (RILA) Show
National Retail Federation (NRF) Show
Manhattan Associates Momentum
Red Prairie RedShift
High Jump Software Innovation

Outside of work, Mullen makes his own wine, enjoys woodworking and landscaping, and stays active through exercise, golf, tennis, and basketball.
