

Stephen Craig

Managing Partner

Stephen Craig is Managing Partner of enVista's Freight Management business unit. Freight Management is a 3PL that provides daily transportation planning, execution, visibility and event management, freight invoice audit and payment, and reporting to enVista clients on an outsourced or "Managed Transportation" basis.

Craig has more than 15 years experience delivering transportation strategy, operations and systems improvements. Prior to joining enVista, he was the founder and president of CP Consulting. His other positions include transportation consulting positions with A.T. Kearney and Deloitte Consulting. Craig has a bachelor's degree from Hendrix College and a master's degree in business from Southern Methodist University.

Craig has been interviewed in several industry publications on transportation and logistics topics.

Outside of work, Craig enjoys spending time with his family and getting out on the Chesapeake Bay from his home in Annapolis whenever he can.
